Artist, volunteer wins Hallettsville citizen of the year

Feb 6, 2018

Aaron Riske received the Citizen of the Year award at the recent Hallettsville Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet. Riske, who was born with spina bifida, volunteers at the Shiner Gaslight Theatre, the Leo J. Welder Center for the Performing Arts and the Hallet Oak Gallery in Hallettsville. As an artist, Riske's work reflects his life. His artworks are filled with his vision of strength and medical advancements. He has a mission to find joy in life by helping others. Riske said art brings out the best in him and helps him to be the best he can be. He was nominated to be among the top three Citizens of the Year by the City of Hallettsville in 2017. The same year, Governor Greg Abbott named Riske an honorary admiral in the Texas Navy for assisting in the preservation of the history, boundaries, water resources and defense of the state.
